sembled, and many of the outsiders swarmed the steps and invaded the vestibules The throngs there and in the streets eagerly cursed the situation. M. Ralli, the former minister and opposition leader, was among the first of the deputies to arrive. He was cheered and accorded various other marks of sympathy, but the crowd generally maintained the sullen demeanor engendered but the crowd generally by the disheartening news of the past few

The ministers reached Parliament house in closed carriages. The crowd slowly opened a way to allow them to pass and respectfully saluted the occupants of the vehicles. The public galleries of the house were thronged, among those present being many women and members of the diplomatic corps. When the president of the legis-lative assembly, M. Zamais, owing to the absence of a quorum, declared the sitting closed, the announcement was greeted with exclamations of impatience from the members of the opposition, and with crics of disapproval from the galleries. As the excitement increased, M. Raili, rising to his feet, motioned to his supporters to remain chim. His advice was followed and the deputies filed out of the house.

WAS A GREAT DISAPPOINTMENT. The opposition deputies proceeded to a committee room, where they consulted upon the failure of the session. The fruitless meeting was a very great disappointment to the crowds outside the house, who were waiting to hear the result of the deliberathe deputies. The ministerialists declare that an extrasession of the legislative assembly is impracticable at this time. It is useless, urge, to hope for a quorum today, as many of the deputies who are with the army at the front cannot possibly reach the capital in time to attend. On the other hand, the members of the opposition cite the of the supporters of the government who, although in Athens last evening, did not attend the assemblage of the deputies in Parliament house.

After the sitting of yesterday the impatient crowds called upon the members of the opposition to appear and make a statement. M. Palser, a well known member of the opposition party in the Legislative Assembly was especially called upon by the crowds to address them, but, although he was apparently the first choice of the people, it was M. Valletta who, from the top of the great steps leading into Parliament house, made speech to the people. M. Valletta said in

"In view of the desertion of the government, the Chamber and the country look to the king to do his duty and safeguard public Have confidence in the opposition which is watching over the highest interests

The words, uttered with great emphasis and significance, were greeted with frantic ap-plause, which was shortly afterward renewed on the appearance of M. Ralli. The crowd gave the popular leader a tremendous ova-tion. Six thousand people escorted him to his house. On arriving there the crowds insisted upon a speech, and M. Ralli appeared brief address, in the course of which he said: The government by its desertion, has comnicide. It is our duty to maintain order and show that we are now fighting for

This sentiment caused the crowds to burst out into loud cheering, after which the peo-ple dispersed to their homes.

M. Delyannis, the Greek premier, in an interview today said the fact that there was no quorum in the legislative assembly was due to the absence of opposition deputies and he expressed the hope that enough deputies would be present today to enable the House to proceed to business.

Continuing, be said: "We shall submit to the decisions of the House. We cannot leave the posts the nation has assigned to I do not admit we have failed in our in any way during this momentous time through which we are passing. have not resigned and we will not resign unless the Chamber declares that it withdraws its confidence from us. Nothing, except a vote of want of confidence upon the part of the Chamber or an expression of want of confidence upon the part of the crown, will induce us to relinquish the government of the country."

The evening session of the legislative assembly was attended by only forty deputies. In the absence of a quorum the president adjourned the chamber, after which crowds paraded the streets, shouting: "Long live There was no other in cident of special importance.

Will Relax the Blockade.

LONDON, April 29 .- A dispatch to the Times from Canea says that the admirals of the international fleet visited the insurgents at Akrotiri and held a prolonged conference with the leaders. Admiral Canevaro informed them of the fall of Larissa and of the re-treat of the Greek army. They were greatly moved and asked to be allowed to go to Greece to fight for King George. The admirals then announced their intention to relax the blockade, which, they said, was not intended to starve the island into subjection. They assured the insurgents that they would be permitted to come into the town provided they came unarmed to purchase anything they might need, and, more-over, that they would be furnished with an eacort to guard them against any fear of Mussulmans attacks.

Powers Will Intervene. LONDON, April 29 .- All the talk now, says the Daily Mall correspondent, is of the Intervention of the powers. PUTS OFF REFORMS IN TURKEY. One Result of the Success of Ottoman

Arms in Greece.
CONSTANTINOPLE, April 29.—The following official statement was issued here today: "The Sublime Porte formally contradicts the rumors of atrocities committed by the imperial troops at Filiapada and also the report of the mutiny of Albanians. The repeated testimony of all the cor respondents of foreign newspapers at head quarters and the admiration they express for the discipline, humans feeling, bravery and moderation of the Ottoman soldiers prove the accusations to be totally unfounded and due to the imagination of the people whose malevolence equals their men-Edhem Pasha has taken all the measures necessary to repress every kind The alleged mutiny is absolutely contrary to fact.

The victories of the Turkish troops have enormously raised the military spirit of the Turks and the confidence thus inspired in Turkey's vitality is removing the dissatis-faction felt with the present regime, while at the same time it renders the powers' scheme of reforms for the Ottoman empire harder of realization.

The advantages which Turkey will derive from the war are already discussed in high quarters, where it is declared that Turkey should in any case be released from the obligations imposed upon it in regard to Crete and the rectification of the frontier. It is also suggested and urged that Cape opposite Prevesa, at the entrance of ulf of Arta, should be restored to Turkey and that Greece should be required

In military circles it is further urged that Turkish squadron should be dispatched o Volo to support Edhem Pasha's occupation of that district of Greece. The Turkish squadron, however, has not yet left the Dardanelles and the captain of an Austrian mail ship which has just arrived here reports that three of the Turkish war ships and one of the Turkish torpedo boats have run aground in the Dardanelles. FRICTION AT THE UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA

Dismissal of a Popular Professor Causes a Wave of Indignation Among the Students that Becomes Riotous.

LINCOLN, April 29 .- (Special.)-The excitement at the University of Nebraska over the action of the Board of Regents in asking for the resignation of Prof. H. K. Wolfe, professor of philosophy, and the subsequent demonstration of disapproval by the students is about over, although much dissatisfaction is expressed by a majority of the students. Petitions were signed by about 1,000 of the students this morning, asking the board to reconsider its action. A committee of five of the alumni called upon the board and asked that action be deferred until the June meeting, in order that the matter might be inquired into by the students and the pubas final, not deeming any further delay expedient.

It seems, from a statement made by the chancellor and from the minutes of the board meeting, that the difficulty in Prof. Wolfe's case has been under consideration for two or three years, and that while he is man in every way, he has been unable to pull with the other members of the faculty in the university work. A year ago he was advised by the board to keep within his own department and not meddle with the others. Failing to heed the advice his discharge was unanimously agreed upon by the board. Fol-lowing this action a committee from the board called upon Prof. Wolfe yesterday and stated the decision to him. Through Prof. Wolfe and his friends the matter became public among the students. The professor being very popular among the students, the chapel this morning was the consequence.

This afternoon more sober counsel pre vailed and a meeting passed resolutions of apology for the outbreak at chapel. It is thought that the students will take no further public action. It is understood that the dismissal of James W. Adams, professor of English, raised no objection on the part of the students or alumni. In the interest of economy the department over which he presided is to be consolidated with the depart-ment now under Prof. Sherman. It was a question as to which one of the instructors should be retained, and Prof. Sherman being the oldest in the university and the stronger instructor of the two was naturally selected to stay. A number of minor changes have been recommended or ordered by the board, looking toward the interest of economy by consolidating some of the branches. The board deemed it a better policy to make a slight reduction in the number of instructors and increase the work of those retained than to make a general reduction of wages. The annual report of the chancellor makes a very favorable showing for the institution and an increase in the attendance of sixty-nine over the previous year.

A LONELY PLACE.

Desert Isle with Ninety-four In habitants in the South Atlantic. Anybody who feels an inclination to lead really quiet life, says the New York Times, life even more uneventful than that of Brooklyn or Westchester county, should emigrate to Tristan da Cunha, an island, or, to be quite accurate, three islands close together, in the South Atlantic, so far away from anywhere that really they are quite out of the world. The group was discev ered and named by the Portuguese away back in the time when Portugal was something more than a name on the map; but now of course it belongs to England, having been appropriated by her in 1816, one day when she didn't happen to be busy grabbing stray bits of land more valuable than the against the former. The case of Kubai was taken up, and after deliberating for some time, the council did not consider the evidence sufficient to bar Mr. Kubai, and the divided into sixteen families.
